Dear Friends,

It is a great honor and joy for me to present Songfest 2004 at Pepperdine University once again this summer. In our second year of residence at this beautiful ocean-side Malibu campus, Songfest has grown to encompass an ever-widening circle of inspiration and achievement. Always focusing on the special relationship between singer and pianist, we have moved on from our unique emphasis on recognized masterworks of art song and opera to exploring the cantata arias of J.S. Bach and the creative fruits of 20th and 21st century compositions for voice and piano with our new Program for New Art Song. The debut of this new addition brings established composers and master and apprentice level composer participants to Songfest to join our musical community. We are privileged to have John Harbison this year as the composer-in-residence.

As I reflect on Songfest's growth over these eight seasons in championing art song, I realize how much this premise illuminates the power of music as a window to undiscovered worlds of meaning. What makes the singer's art unique in the world of music is the joining of words and musical sound, and the resulting mystery of communication that is born from this marriage. In the interpretation of song, it is the understanding of the poetry and the music, a delicacy of feeling for the composer and the poet by the singer and the pianist that allows the song to soar beyond words and carry us to new heights. In the creation of song, it is so often the text, which inspires the creative fire of the composer. With the inaugural season of the Program for New Art Song, it therefore seems appropriate that the important role of words and the meaning they give to a singer's art be given special acknowledgement.

I am thrilled to welcome back artist teachers Martin Katz and Graham Johnson. These two brilliant pianists have been the bedrock for the success of Songfest. Their insights into this wonderful repertoire, its melody and poetry, and especially the emphasis on the communication of meaning, have given hundreds of singers and pianists the inspiration to build their careers. This year we also greet again Pulitzer Prize-winning composer John Harbison, who is spearheading the Program for New Art Song and helping forge relationships with exciting current composers. I am happy to have artists Judith Kellock, D'Anna Fortunato, Craig Smith, and lecturer Cristanne Miller back with Songfest this summer. Special thanks also goes to Lisa Radakovich Holsberg and of course, my thanks to John Hall – the co-founder of Songfest and our voice of drama and theatre, he helps us make the music come alive.

Executive Director, Songfest

“Songfest is an activity I look forward to all year. It leaves me feeling exhausted, but at the same time I am more gratified than I can really express.”

– Martin Katz

Since Songfest’s inception in 1996, pianist Martin Katz has been the driving musical force behind the hallmark of this unique vocal festival: the special collaborative relationship between singer and pianist. Whether the repertoire is German lieder or Mozart recitatives, American art song or bel canto aria, Scandinavian or Spanish song, Martin Katz has brought his definitive imprint on the nature of the musical partnership between singer and pianist, and emboldened all participating artists to levels of expression and achievement they had never before believed possible. This year at Songfest 2004, Martin Katz continues his work with American art song and operatic aria interpretation. He will also lead a focus on the masterpieces of that most sensual, cerebral and ephemeral body of vocal art, the French mélodie.

Martin Katz

Songfest 2004 Distinguished Faculty

The sunlight of California, the bracing air of Mailbu, the energy of Rosemary Ritter and her team, the immortal legacy of the great song composers combined with the thrill of songs by great contemporary Americans – that is Songfest. At a time when too much of our cultural heritage is being allowed to wither we must preserve eternal musical values in a way that is relevant for today's students. It has been a privilege over the years to work on Rosemary's projects; here is her latest offering in a lifetime's championing of an endangered species. At Pepperdine Songfest prides itself on running less of a museum, more of a nature park. Please come and marvel at our array of living, feeling, breathing singers, pianists and composers – some of the best the world of classical music has to offer. They won't bite you, but their music might just leave you bitten with the same passion and enthusiasm we find all around us on this beautiful hill.

7:00 – 9:00 p.m.
Raitt Recital Hall

Emmanuel Music was founded in 1970 by Craig Smith to perform the complete cycle of over 200 sacred cantatas by J.S. Bach in the liturgical setting for which they were intended. For the last 27 years with Emmanuel Music, Craig Smith has conducted a cantata of J.S. Bach each week as part of the Sunday worship service at Boston's Emmanuel Church. John Harbison has been for many years principal guest conductor of Emmanuel Music, leading performances of Bach cantatas, 17th-century motets, and new music. Together Craig Smith and John Harbison have established an international reputation in the interpretation and presentation of the music of J.S. Bach.

Mezzo-soprano D'Anna Fortunato is a founding member of the touring and recording ensemble Bach Aria Group, and has sung often with the Bethlehem, Winter Park, Carmel, Boulder, and Rome Bach Festivals. She was a long-time soloist with Emmanuel Music and the Cantata Singers.

PROGRAM NOTES

North and South (1999)

North and South is a cycle of six settings of poems by Elizabeth Bishop. It is divided into two books, each of similar proportion. Book One, dedicated to Lorraine Hunt Lieberson, begins with the first of Bishop's Four Songs for a Colored Singer. In an interview with Ashley Brown, Bishop said, "I was hoping someone would compose the tunes for them. I think I had Billie Holiday in mind. I put in a couple of big words must because she sang big words well . . . As for music in general; I'd love to be a composer." After this rhetorical opening comes a setting of a typically elusive love-and-loneliness Bishop incantation, "Late Air." The third song, "Breakfast Song," was never published. It was transcribed, in progress, by Lloyd Schwarz during a visit to Bishop's hospital room during one of her last illnesses.

Book Two, dedicated to Janice Felty, begins with another, even more emphatic, declamation from Songs for a Colored Singer. It is followed by "Song," a poem from the time of North and South, Bishop's first book, but published later. Finally, another very private lyric, "Dear, My Compass...", which was discovered by Lloyd Schwartz in an inn in Ouro Preto, Brazil, an 18th century mountain town where Bishop bought a house in 1965. Schwartz writes, "Here is the unmistakable voice of Elizabeth Bishop, here the fairy-tale vividness and coloring-book clarity of images...; the geographical references – and restlessness – of the world traveler, the delicate yet sharply etched jokes ...the apparent conversational casualness disguising the formality of the versification; the understated yet urgent sexuality; even the identification with animals."

— John Harbison

Flashes and Illuminations (1994)

Flashes and Illuminations was commissioned by reader's Digest/Meet the Composer for baritone Sanford Sylvan and pianist David Breitman. Honoring their long musical partnership, I composed a piece that falls equally to pianist and singer, from poets who invite sustained reflection.

The title comes, in part, from the "Flashes and Dedications" section of Eugenio Montale's book La Bufera (The Storm), in which the poem "Sulla Greve" appears (the Greve is a small river near Florence). For Montale, the "flash" is a momentary perception of the natural world or a human interaction that brings sudden insight. Each poem suggested to me a Montalean flash: sudden, muted lightening on the horizon.

PROGRAM NOTES

Mirabai Songs (1982)

Mirabai's ecstatic religious poetry was written in sixteenth century India. When she was twenty-seven, her husband was killed in a war. Rather than sacrifice her own life, as custom required, she left her family compound, wrote poems to the god Krishna, ("the Dark One"), and sang and danced them in the street as an outcast. Her strength of character is a constant throughout this dramatic, ever-changing cycle.

The original version of the Mirabai Songs was for voice and piano. The instrumental version of the Mirabai Songs was made for practical reasons: the new music ensemble thrives, the voice and piano duo is disappearing. Each song is dedicated to a singer: I. It's True, I Went To the Market (Janice Felty) II. All I Was Doing Was Breathing (Jan DeGaetani) III. Why Mira Can't Go Back to Her Old House (Susan Larson) IV. Where Did You Go? (D'Anna Fortunato) V. The Clouds (Joan Heller) VI. Don't Go, Don't Go (Susan Quittmeyer.)

Robert Bly's beautiful translations are used with the permission of the poet and Red Ozier Press.

— John Harbison

Gatsby Songs

In the opera The Great Gatsby, five songs are sung in the course of small or large gatherings, either over the radio or live by a Band Vocalist. These songs, with lyrics by Murray Horwitz, bear a resemblance to popular songs from the 1920s, but also share musical elements with the score as a whole. A number of other songs appear in the opera as instrumentals only. After the completion of the opera, Murray Horwitz wrote lyrics for these as well, completing the present collection, which reorders and rearranges the songs, making them presentable separately or as a sequence.

New Music Premiere Notes

Therefore We Do Not Lose Heart by Songfest 2004 Master Composer participant Angel On-Ki Lam is a setting of Biblical text for a capella SSAA chorus. The selected text, II Corinthians 4:16-18, has the power of revealing a spiritual world beyond our earthly existence; an eternal, divine supremacy that exists beyond “things which are seen.” The most intriguing lines of this text are the first three lines and the two concluding lines. They communicate an authoritative message that encourages us to not lose heart and to have inner spiritual strength. The meaning of the text is not limited to Christians; it has a universal message that there is a divine power beyond our knowledge.

Anna Weesner's Songs About Law and Light was commissioned in 1996 by the 92nd Street Y in New York for performance by Dawn Upshaw and Richard Goode. The work sets 2 Psalms from the Bible: Psalm 19, v.1-14 and Psalm 119 v. 73-77 and is in 2 sections. The first section is intended to create an open sound – big and public – which should offset the rather more private sound world of the second section. John Harbison has written that “none of it proceeds in obvious ways. Her vocabulary is subtle and rather elusive; the effect is paradoxically confident and decisive.” Psalm 119 – the second Psalm- has never been performed and will be premiered by Songfest soprano Ji Young Yang and pianist Kate Stevens, both Doctoral students at Manhattan School of Music.

Dorothy Chang's cycle Burning (words by William Carlos Williams) has been revised for Songfest 2004. The original setting was for small ensemble. Mezzo-soprano Carola Emrich-Fisher, a student of Songfest faculty D'Anna Fortunato at New England Conservatory and Tufts faculty pianist and Songfest Board member, Hisako Hiratsuka will premiere this cycle.

While millions join the theme... by University of Southern California faculty composer Erica Muhl will be premiered by Khori Dastoor and Lisa Radakovich Holsberg and pianist Serena Chin. The texts for this cycle are excerpted from the 1966 book, Children's Letters to God. This book is a collection of short letters to God written by children of various ages-and it highlights the ways in which all humans – adults and children alike – relate to God. The title, “While millions join the theme...” is taken from the text of a 19th century American hymn “What Wondrous Love is This.” It is an intended musical reference to the unconditional love that seems to come so naturally to children, and blesses us all.

John Harbison

John Harbison is one of America's most prominent composers. Among his principal works are four string quartets, three symphonies, the cantata The Flight Into Egypt, which earned him a Pulitzer Prize in 1987, and three operas including The Great Gatsby, commissioned by The Metropolitan Opera and premiered to great acclaim in December 1999.

Harbison's music is distinguished by its exceptional resourcefulness and expressive range. He has written for every conceivable type of concert performance, ranging from the grandest to the most intimate, pieces that embrace jazz along with the pre-classical forms. He is considered to be "original, varied, and absorbing—relatively easy for audiences to grasp and yet formal and complex enough to hold our interest through repeated hearings—his style boasts both lucidity and logic" (Fanfare 1993). Harbison is also a gifted commentator on the art and craft of composition and was recognized in his student years as an outstanding poet (he wrote his own libretto for Gatsby). Today, he continues to convey, through the spoken word, the multiple meanings of contemporary composition.

Premieres last season included his Requiem, for the Boston Symphony Orchestra (in both Boston and New York), Piano Sonata No. 2, for Robert Levin, String Quartet No. 4 for the Orion String Quartet, and The Violists' Notebook. Other recent works include Four Psalms, commissioned by the Israeli Consulate for the Chicago Symphony to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the founding of the State of Israel; and Partita, a Minnesota Orchestra centennial commission. Harbison was one of twelve composers invited to compose a section of a Requiem commemorating the victims of World War II, performed on the 50th anniversary of V Day by the Stuttgart Bachchor and the Israel Philharmonic, conducted by Helmut Rilling. Major revivals of The Great Gatsby took place at the Lyric Opera of Chicago in October 2000 and at the Metropolitan Opera in May 2002, Four Psalms was performed by the Cantata Singers of Boston in 2001, and by the American Composers Orchestra in New York in November 2002, and his opera Full Moon in March was presented in May 2003. Mr. Harbison is currently at work on his fourth symphony (for the centennial anniversary of the Seattle Symphony), a sinfonietta for the Chicago Chamber Players, and he has just completed a piano trio, Short Stories, which will premiere in summer 2004.

Harbison has been composer-in-residence with the Pittsburgh Symphony, the Los Angeles Philharmonic, the Tanglewood, Marlboro, and Santa Fe Chamber Music Festivals, and the American Academy in Rome. His music has been performed by many of the world's leading ensembles, and more than 30 of his compositions have been recorded on the Nonesuch, Northeastern, Harmonia Mundi, New World, Decca, Koch, Centaur, Archetype, and CRI labels. Musica Omnia recently released his second disc of works for string quartet, CRI has reissued a volume of early works, and Albany Records released his Viola Concerto. Recordings of his Cello Concerto, Four Psalms, Emerson, and the ballet Ulysses will be released in 2004.

As conductor, Harbison has led a number of leading orchestras and chamber groups. From 1990 to 1992 he was Creative Chair with the St. Paul Chamber Orchestra, conducting music from Monteverdi to the present. In 1991, at the Ojai Festival, he led the Scottish Chamber Orchestra. During the 2003 season he will guest conduct the Seattle Symphony. Former music director of the Cantata Singers in Boston, Harbison has conducted many other ensembles, among them the Los Angeles Philharmonic, the Boston Symphony, and the Handel and Haydn Society. For many years he has been principal guest conductor of Emmanuel Music in Boston, leading performances of Bach cantatas, 17th-century motets, and new music.

Harbison was born in Orange, New Jersey on 20 December 1938 into a musical family. He was improvising on the piano by five years of age and started a jazz band at age 12. He did his undergraduate work at Harvard University and earned an MFA from Princeton University. Following completion of a junior fellowship at Harvard, Harbison joined the faculty at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology where, in 1984, he was named Class of 1949 Professor of Music, in 1994, Killian Award Lecturer in recognition of "extraordinary professional accomplishments;" and in 1995 named Institute Professor. He has also taught at CalArts and Boston University, and in 1991 he was the Mary Biddle Duke Lecturer in Music at Duke University.

In 1998, Harbison was named winner of the Heinz Award for the Arts and Humanities, a prize established in honor of the late Senator John Heinz by his wife Teresa Heinz to recognize five leaders annually for significant and sustained contributions in the Arts and Humanities, the Environment, the Human Condition, Public Policy and Technology, and the Economy and Employment. Among other awards the composer has received are the Distinguished Composer award from the American Composer's Orchestra (2002), the Harvard Arts Medal (2000), the American Music Center's Letter of Distinction (2000), the Kennedy Center Friedheim First Prize (for his Piano Concerto), and a MacArthur Fellowship in 1989. He also holds four honorary doctorates. Much of his violin music has been composed for his wife, Rose Mary, and with her he serves as artistic director of the Token Creek Chamber Music Festival on the family farm in Wisconsin.

Furthering the work of younger composers is one of Harbison's prime interests, and he serves on the boards of directors of the Copland Fund (as president) and the Koussevitzky Foundation. His music is published exclusively by Associated Music Publishers.

New Music Forum III

John Harbison will discuss his works including three newly composed songs with texts by C. Milosz

Poems by Czeslaw Milosz (b. 1911)

Lauda

And now we are joined in a ritual.
In amber? In crystal? We make music.
Neither what once was nor what ever will be.
Only what persists when the world is over.

Rays of Dazzling Light

Light off metal shaken,
Lucid dew of heaven,
Bless each and every one
To whom the earth is given.

Its essence was always hidden
Behind a distant curtain.
We chased it all our lives
Bidden and unbidden.

Knowing the hunt would end,
That then what had been rent
Would be at last made whole:
Poor body and the soul.

A Task

In fear and trembling, I think I would fulfill my life
Only if I brought myself to make a public confession
Revealing a sham, my own and of my epoch:
We were permitted to shriek in the tongue of dwarfs
and demons
But pure and generous words were forbidden
Under so stiff a penalty that whoever dared to pronounce one
Considered himself a lost man.

“How to take the measure of a brand –new song”

JOHN HALL

For thirty years John Hall has been guiding young talent in opera and musical theater at UCLA. With over 100 titles to his credits, John Hall's productions are known for his clear direction and fluid movement in many different styles. Last year, Daily Variety compared his West Coast premiere production of The Wild Party by Andrew Lipka with that show's original New York production and found his the preferred performance. This season his entire run of Bernstein's West Side Story was sold out to enthusiastic houses. No matter what kind of music theater, from Baroque opera to contemporary musical, his productions have been the cornerstone of UCLA's student performances. He has sold more tickets than anyone else at UCLA Department of Music and alumni of his productions are successfully performing on Broadway and in major opera houses throughout the world.

As a librettist, John Hall has had his works performed in such major venues as New York's Carnegie Hall and Alice Tully Hall, Davies Hall in San Francisco, and Wigmore Hall in London. This season his song cycle Thoughts Unspoken (music by Jake Heggie) was performed at a special commemorative concert in Covent Garden for World's Aids Day.

As one of the founding members of SongFest, a summer program for young singers and pianists, he has helped to give young artists a solid technique in communicating opera and musical theater on the recital stage. This summer he will be working with the SongFest participants at Pepperdine University and at Icicle Creek Music Festival in Washington State.

GRAHAM JOHNSON

Graham Johnson is one of the most distinguished vocal accompanists of our time. He studied at the Royal Academy of Music in London and with the late Geoffrey Parsons. In 1972 he was official accompanist at Peter Pears' master classes at The Maltings, Snape, and thereafter he worked regularly with the great tenor. In 1976 Mr. Johnson formed The Songmakers' Almanac to further the cause of neglected areas of piano-accompanied vocal music, and to place the staple repertoire in new and challenging contexts. This endeavor was much supported by the late Gerald Moore, whose guiding influence in Graham Johnson's career was of crucial importance.

Apart from devising and accompanying over one hundred and fifty Songmakers' recitals, Mr. Johnson has presented a number of summer recital cycles at the South Bank and Wigmore Hall, as well as a seven-part cycle of Goethe settings for the Alte Oper, Frankfurt. He has written and presented programs for both BBC Radio and Television on the songs of Schubert, Poulenc, Liszt and Shostakovich. He is Professor of Accompaniment at the Guildhall School of Music, and is a Fellow of that School as well as of the Royal Academy of Music. He has given master classes as far afield as Finland, New Zealand, and at the Music Academy of the West in Santa Barbara, California. This is Mr. Johnson's third summer at Songfest.

Graham Johnson has accompanied such distinguished singers as Elly Ameling, Victoria de los Angeles, Arleen Auger, Brigitte Fassbaender, Matthias Goerne, Tom Krause, Ann Murray, Felicity Palmer, Anthony Rolfe Johnson, Marjana Lipvsek, Jessye Norman, Lucia Popp, Dame Margaret Price, Christine Schafer and Peter Schreier. He has accompanied Dame Felicity Lott since their student days at the Royal Academy of Music where they worked together with the late Flora Nielsen.

Graham Johnson records for the Sony, BMG, Forlane, Harmonia Mundi, Hyperion and EMI labels. His ten-year project to record the entire Schubert Lieder for Hyperion continues to attract critical acclaim, including the Gramophone solo vocal award in both 1989 (for his disc with Dame Janet Baker) and in 1996 (for Die schone Mullerin with Ian Bostridge). He has now embarked on a new project for Hyperion, to record the entire Lieder of Schumann – the first disc in this series, with Christine Schafer, won the 1997 Gramophone solo vocal award. He has just completed, with Richard Stokes, A French Song Companion, published by Oxford University Press. He was made an OBE in the 1994 Queen's Birthday Honours list.

MARTIN KATZ

"Martin Katz must surely be considered the dean of collaborative pianists," said the Los Angeles Times, and Musical America was similarly convinced, creating a new award expressly for him: Accompanist of the Year. One of the world's busiest collaborators, he has been in constant demand by the world's most celebrated vocal soloists for more than thirty-five years. He is pleased to regularly partner Frederica von Stade, David Daniels, Denyce Graves, Karita Mattila, Kiri te Kanawa, Kathleen Battle, Sylvia McNair, Isabel Bayrakdarian and Jose Carreras, to name just a few. Season after season, the world's musical capitals figure prominently in his schedule. Throughout his long career he has been fortunate to collaborate with some of the world's most esteemed voices. Marilyn Horne, Renata Tebaldi, Cesare Siepi, Evelyn Lear, Katia Ricciarelli, Tatiana Troyanos, Nicolai Gedda, Regine Crespin, Grace Bumbry, Montserrat Caballe and many others have invited him to share the stage in recitals on five continents.

Mr. Katz is a native of Los Angeles, where he began piano studies at the age of five. He attended the University of Southern California as a scholarship student and studied the specialized field of accompanying with its pioneer teacher, Gwendolyn Koldofsky. While yet a student, he was given the unique opportunity of accompanying the master classes and lessons of such luminaries as Lotte Lehmann, Jascha Heifetz, Pierre Bernac, and Gregor Piatigorsky. Following his formal education, he held the position of pianist for the US Army Chorus in Washington, D.C. for three years, before moving to New York where his busy international career began in earnest in 1969.

In the last ten years, Mr. Katz has also added conducting to his skills, and has been pleased to accompany his soloists on the podium for Houston, Washington, DC, Tokyo, Miami and New Haven orchestras as well as the BBC in London. His ever-increasing repertoire as an opera conductor has been demonstrated at the Music Academy of the West, and the Opera Theatre at the University of Michigan. Drawing on his experience with baroque and bel canto repertoire as an accompanist and coach, he has prepared editions of operas by Handel and Rossini, which have been presented by the Metropolitan Houston Grand Opera and the National Arts Centre in Ottawa.

Finally, the professional profile of Martin Katz is completed with his commitment to teaching. For the past eighteen years, Ann Arbor has been his home, where he is chair of the School of Music's program in accompanying and chamber music, and where he takes an active part in operatic productions. He has been a pivotal figure in the training of countless young artists, both singers and pianists, who are working all over the world. The University has recognized this important work, making him the first Arthur Schnabel Professor of Music. Mr. Katz is also in constant demand as a guest teacher in such important venues as the Merola Program of San Francisco Opera, the Steans Institute at Ravinia Festival, Tanglewood Music Center, and the National Opera Center in Tokyo. He has been an active participant in Songfest since its inception in 1996.
